

Visions from the Inside

Stories of detained migrant children and families

Artist: Jess X Chen

7-18 September,
next to the Delegates' Lounge, Palais des Nations

With the generous support of OHCHR and the UN Committee on Migrant Workers

This exhibit explores the visions and realities for child migrants in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of UN Migrant Workers Convention. These images are brought to you by partners of the Global Campaign to End Child Immigration Detention.

These illustrations are based on letters written by detained women and children in a detention center. These visual art interpretations were created by a diverse line-up of visual artists highlight the realities that migrants are experiencing inside of detention facilities, what led them to migrate away from their home countries, and the resiliency of the human spirit. These illustrations are a collaboration between CultureStrike, Mariposas Sin Fronteras and End Family Detention.
